The Grand Hotel Baglioni Bologna has received a prestigious award.

The Grand Hotel Baglioni is housed in a magnificent palazzo in the heart of Bologna in Italy. Beautifully decorated throughout with rich fabrics, paintings and marble halls it has long been a favourite of royalty and international VIPs. Impeccable personal service, a renowned restaurant, luxurious surroundings and the latest technology including free WI-FI go together to make a superb hotel. The five star

Grand Hotel Baglioni, Bologna has received a prestigious award in Travel+Leisure magazine for the world's best award 2009. The luxurious hotel got the first rank in the category for Large City Hotels in Europe and the 31st rank in the Top 100 Hotels overall. This is the 14th year that Travel+Leisure magazine's readers have voted for the World's Best cities, islands, hotels, cruises, and airlines. Published in the USA, Travel+Leisure, one of the world's leading travel magazines, has a monthly circulation of almost one million readers internationally. The outstanding attributes of the Grand Hotel Baglioni are evident throughout the Baglioni Hotels Collection which currently has nine properties in major Italian cities, one in London and five stunning hotels in France. Later this year the Baglioni Hotel and Ràcz Thermal Spa will open in Budapest.
